Standard Interview Process and Assessment Ownership

ViH Messenger follows a uniform and detailed project-based assessment framework for all applicants to ensure suitability for highly demanding roles. Any code, material, design, or information created or submitted by you as part of this assessment is the proprietary intellectual property of ViH Messenger, fully owned and controlled by the Company. Participation in such assessment does not constitute employment, consultancy, or a commitment to hire. We appreciate your effort and recognise the time you invested.

One-Time Accommodation Payment – Non-Precedential

Based on your discussions with the Management, and strictly as a one-time accommodation, the Company will release a payment of ₹8,065 INR by 31 January 2026 on the condition that we receive a signed physical copy of this letter. This payment is ex-gratia in nature, does not represent consideration for services, and does not set precedent or create any entitlement or claim of wages, fees, or employment benefits for any present or future recruitment matters of ViH Messenger.

With this communication, the Company considers the concerns addressed and the recruitment interaction closed from its end.
